EUFULA MOB LYNCHES NEGRO

BODY RIDDLED WITH BULLETS AND LEFT HANGING TO TREE NEAR CITY.

Eufaula, Ala., Feb. 12.—Iver Peterson, a young negro about 18 years of age, was lynched this morning between 8 and 9 o'clock by twenty of the most prominent citizens of Eufaula, in the woods just off the public road, eight miles from the city limits. His body was strung up to a limb and riddled with bullets. The body was left hanging there.

Last night about 7 o'clock, as Mrs. E. A. Hudson, a prominent woman of Eufaula, was crossing the street going from a neighbor's house to her own on North Eufaula Street, a negro, who was identified as Iver Peterson, grabbed her and attempted to assault her. Her screams brought several of her neighbors to the scene in a few moments and the negro fled.

After an all night search by police, deputies and citizens, Peterson was captured this morning at 8 o'clock at his father's house, just in the rear of the home of Congressman Henry D. Clayton. Deputy Beverly, accompanied by Mr. Spencer in the latter's automobile, started with the negro for Clayton, the county seat, fearing that a lynching might result if the prisoner was left in Eufaula.

At the eight mile post from Eufaula on the Clayton road, the automobile was halted by a mob of citizens and the negro quickly rushed in the woods nearby where he was lynched.

Eufaula was in a high state of excitement all of last night and today. Mrs. Hudson, whom the negro attempted to assault, is very prominent in social and church circles of the city. She is the daughter of Mrs. N. F. Jackson of Montgomery.

SILVER SOCIAL.

Rev. and Mrs. Lamar Jones will give a Silver Social at their home on North Foster St., next Tuesday night. There will be a Grab Bag, a Beauty Show and lots of good things to eat. Proceeds go to the Headland Avenue Baptist Church.

JAMES BOYS' MOTHER DEAD.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 10.—Mrs. Zerapha Samuels, 86 years old, mother of Frank and Jesse James, the former bandits, died this afternoon on a St. Louis and Francisco Railway train near here. She was on the way to Kansas City from the home of her son, Frank, who lives on a farm near Fletcher, Okla.

41-STORY BUILDING PLANNED

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 9.—The last obstacle in the way of the erection of a forty-one story building in this city by the estate of L. C. Smith, of Syracuse, N. Y., was removed last night when the Council committee that has been going over the plans voted to grant the permit. The local agent for the Smith estate informed the committee that the skyscraper, which will be the highest office building in the world outside of New York, will be begun within the next six weeks.

J. S. Rodney of Ashford, was in town today.

H. V. Maund of Marianna spent Sunday in the city.

John Malone returned to Malone this morning.

P. A. McDaniel of Abbeville was in the city Sunday.

MARRYING DAY

Yesterday, being Sunday, Judge Crawford expected a quiet day in the marrying business, but he was kept busy around the office a good deal of the day.

He has never had time to thoroughly memorize his Sunday ceremony, and he tried to play out of it when a couple drove up in automobile. He asked them if they couldn't find a preacher, for he said ceremony, the one he had written off, was in the pockets of one of the clerks, and he feared that he didn't know it all by heart. They insisted that he make an attempt, and he was successful.

Within the last two or three days license have been issued to the following:

HARRISON-HAYS

A marriage license has been issued for Mr. Calvin Harrison of Grimes and Miss Mattie Hays of Headland.

BAKEFIELD-EUFORD

Mr. Christian Bakefield and Miss Bertha Euford of Webb were married in the probate office yesterday afternoon by Judge of Probate A. C. Crawford.

HALL-ETHREDGE

Mr. Simon Hall and Miss Lillie Ethredge a young couple of Ashford were married here Saturday afternoon by Probate Judge A. C. Crawford. The marriage took place in the probate office in the presence of a few friends and acquaintances.

PIPPINGER-ARNOLD

Mr. F. M. Pippinger and Miss Ethel Arnold of Midland City were married here yesterday afternoon in the probate office by Judge A. C. Crawford. The ceremony was witnessed by a few friends and acquaintances.

MAKING DRIVEWAYS

The pavers have gone to work making the drive ways around the new government building and laying the sidewalks will soon follow.

The lawn will be fixed up nicely and a large appropriation for this has been received.

ALLEGED EMBEZZLER ESCAPES

Marietta, O., Feb. 9.—Edward A. Epler, auditor of the Marietta, Columbus and Cleveland Railroad, who is charged with embezzling $5,000 of the funds of the railroad, escaped from the county jail today. George Bayless, arrested on a charge of burglary, escaped with him.

The indications are that Epler and Bayless were assisted by persons from the outside. A duplicate key to the cell doors had been made and with this the doors were unlocked.

A large reward has been offered for the capture of Epler.

MEMPHIS' WOMAN SUFFOCATED.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 10.—Miss Emma Applewhite, aged sixty years, was suffocated late tonight when the residence of her brother, James Applewhite, banker and capitalist, of this city was destroyed by fire.

Miss Applewhite, with other members of the family, was safely out of the building but she returned to her apartments of the second floor to secure a portrait of her mother. Immediately after she entered, flames cut off the means of escape and before firemen reached her through a window, the aged woman had smothered to death.

H. H. Arnold was in town today selling some of the lard from his 640 pound hog he killed last week. He made over 350 pounds of lard from the hog.

COLE GIVEN HABEAS CORPUS HEARING.

Marcus Cole the white farmer arrested last week by Sheriff Hay charged with burglary on a warrant from Texas was given a habeas corpus hearing Saturday and was released. He was then arrested for being a fugitive from justice.

Cole, in the hearing, proved that the Houston officials did not have the necessary papers to hold him and was released, but Sheriff Hay being confident that he was the man, then arrested him for being a fugitive from justice. He will be given another hearing on the 25th of this month.

The Texas officials with requisition papers is expected to arrive within the next two days.

COMMISSIONERS COURT

Commissioners court was in session here today and a few matters of business came up, nothing of importance, however.

R. W. Miller, of Webb, was in the city today.

W. B. Bruner of Columbia was in the city today.

FERTILIZER FORMULAS AND RATIONAL FERTILIZING.

Letter after letter is coming to me asking for fertilizer formulas for cotton, for corn, for peanuts, and all sorts of crops, the idea with most being that they must have a formula for every crop planted. I can not know the needs of every man's land and every crop. What is needed more than fertilizer formulas is a good rotation of crops and the growing and feeding of legume forage and the making of more manure, aided by the more liberal use of phosphoric acid and potash, while in many sections the farmers who farm right will never need to buy anything in the way of fertilizers except plain phosphoric acid. This is the controlling factor in any fertilizer formula. But when a man asks me for a formula for corn I am apt to tell him the best I know is a crimson clover crop on which the farm manure has been spread in the winter as fast as made. That will make cheaper corn than any fertilizer formula I can give. This is especially true if the manure has about 100 pounds of acid phosphate of floats mixed in every ton. And the man who has a crimson clover sod to turn for his cotton will seldom need anything but a liberal dose of acid phosphate or Thomas phosphate, which, in such a case, will have a good influence in sweetening the acids for the clover. Our Southern farmers are clean "fertilizer crazy," as one writer has said. Practice a good rotation and grow plenty of peas and crimson clover and use phosphoric acid and potash three or four times as heavily as you have been using a complete low-grade 8-2-2—on your cotton, and you will get better results and cheaper. Then remember that phosphoric acid is one and the same thing, whether it comes from rock or bone or Thomas phosphate or floats. The only thing is to consider its availability. It is more readily available in acid phosphate than in any other form, but if you have the clover to turn or manure to apply, you can profitably use the Thomas phosphate or the floats. But if you are simply trying to grow crops with the aid of fertilizers, then you should use the highest grade, and you will make less money in the long run than if you farmed and improved your land. —W. F. Massey, in Starkville (Miss) Progressive Farmer.

Madrid, Ala., February 12, 1911
Mr. E. R. Malone, President,
Dothan Guano Company,
Dothan, Ala.

Dear Sir:

I have been using Grange Mixture ever since you have been making it. I quit a year or two but went back to it. Last year I put nine bags on five acres and got 2070 lbs. lint cotton off of that five acres. I put seven sacks of Grange Mixture on six acres of corn and I got forty-five bushels to the acre.

Yours truly,
J. W. Durham.

COMPLETES HIS AEROPLANE.

Pensacola Inventor Will Install Motor and Then Will Make Initial Flight Before Home People.

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 10.—If the plans of N. Nassar are carried through, Pensacolians will have an opportunity, within the very near future, of witnessing a flight by an aeroplane designed and constructed by him, and which is now ready for its trial flight, excepting the installation of the motor.

Mr. Nassar left last night for Detroit, where the motor has been under construction, the firm wiring him to come and inspect it before shipment. Within ten days, he will return and install the motor and will then make his first flight. The aeroplane, which is somewhat along the lines of the Wright machines, has been constructed on East Independence street, and Nassar, who has had considerable experience in aerial navigation, expects it to be an unqualified success.

BROWN AND FLOWERS GET CONTRACT

Route Agent J. T. Trawick of the Southern Express Company was notified yesterday that the contract to erect a new express building here had been awarded Brown and Flowers of this city.

There were many bidders for the job but the Dothan contractors looked alright to the Express company and they were given the job to erect the first express building in the city.

This building will be erected at the Coast Line depot and, according to the plans, will be a large and beautiful one.

The contractors will go to work at once.

A SURPRISE FOR THE KING.

A little-known story of the Jewish race in Portugal is told of King Joseph I of that country, says the Manchester Guardian. On one occasion the King ordered that all Portuguese who were in any way allied to or descended from the Hebrew race should wear yellow hats. The old Marquis de Pombal, then minister in chief, shortly afterward appeared at court with three yellow hats under his arm. The King, smiling, asked him:

"What are you doing with these?"

The Marquis replied: "I have them in obedience to your majesty's command, for I really do not know a single Portuguese of note who has not Jewish blood in his veins."

"But," insisted the King, "why three hats?"

"One is for myself," answered the Marquis, "one for the inquisitor general by your side, and one is—in case your majesty should desire to be covered."

Too many people in the South regard sickness as a "visitation of Providence." The old Jewish idea is a great deal nearer right—that sickness is a result of sin. Perhaps in three cases out of four sickness is a result of carelessness either on the part of the individual or the community in which he lives. This practice of holding Providence to blame for the suffering that intelligent activity would prevent is little less than sacrilege.—Starkville, Miss Progressive Farmer.

B. Z. Hamrick, of Ashford, was in the city today.

ARNOLD FAMILY GIVES UP SEARCH

BIYAN NOT A CANDIDATE

New Orleans, La., Feb. 12.—"Will you again be a candidate for the presidency?"

William Jennings Bryan, who delivered his famous "Prince of Peace" lecture at the Y. M. C. A. hall today was asked this question and he shook his head.

His expansive, good humored smile had been in full blossom a minute before. With the question, it disappeared instantly. Mr. Bryan, however, said he was optimistic regarding the prospects of the Democratic party.

DEATH OF BABY

A telegram has been received in Dothan, stating that Rev. C. A. Williams' son, Charlie, died yesterday at Pine Apple. He was about a year old, and will be buried today at Mobile.

THEY ARE MOVED

It is gratifying to note that the city authorities are moving the pile of oyster shells from the sidewalk between Cherry's store and the Baptist church.

J. V. Harrison is in Troy today, to hear Bryan speak.

In a recent issue of the Breeder's Gazette we find an account of some plowing in Indiana with a gasoline traction engine. The outfit consisted of a 20 horse-power engine and four 16-inch plows, with a set of light harrows attached behind. The fields plowed were mostly 40 acres in size. Two men at $1.25 a day and board ran the machine. 20 gallons of gasoline, costing 12 cents per gallon was used; incidental expenses were estimated at 25 cents per day; 12 acres was an average day's work, making the cost less than 56 cents an acre, or about half what it cost by horse power. Plowing out the corners and ends was a small job. Yet we here in the South continue to "plow" with one horse.—a street car, knocked it off the track, and landed himself on the ground.

B. A. Forrester of Covaris, is in the city visiting this afternoon.

It is not considered good form now for one to drive an automobile with one hand, and reach back to the car with the other. A man was doing this in Montgomery the other day, and when everything quieted down the man had run his car into a street car, knocked it off the track, and landed himself on the ground.

Harmon's campaign is starting off mightily early. It will take a good deal of money to finance such a long campaign.

Probably that Juarez row over in Mexico will quiet down just as soon as the moving picture people get a supply of films.

The worst thing we see about this weather is the number of times it is going to ruin the peach crop during the next six weeks.

Spang's bear is going to keep frisking around till he steps in a trap yet. He's just a cub, evidently, or he wouldn't take the risk that he does.

It looks like that the back of winters is broken beyond remedy and the local merchants are displaying their spring stuff, even if it is a little early, but they are selling right along.

It is likely that we will have enough cold weather yet to kill out the early greenness that has been showing up so nicely for a month.

A report comes from Atlanta, that two men, said to be in possession of 100,000 boll weevils, are threatening to turn them loose. We don't believe they have the weevils. It takes some work to accumulate that number on insects.

The Colonel has been heard from. He went over to Grand Rapids the other day and delivered a talk, and among other things, he wants the people to elect the senators direct. Made a good hit, considering how long he has been silent.

There members of the legislature seem certain as to the outcome of the commission bill. It really doesn't seem necessary for a fight to be made over such a bill. There is all to gain, and nothing to lose, in the commission form of government. None of the citizens that have tried it would have the old method.

This is getting to be a great home-owning town. Probably the number of people who own their homes here runs higher than most any town in south Alabama, and it is growing higher. People here are realizing that if they expect to own a home, they have to start early, while property is cheap.

We had hopes that when the Gould-Decies wedding was pulled off that we would have a rest for a while, but now a report comes that Jay Gould, son of George, is to wed a near-nobility himself, in the person of Miss Annie Douglas Graham, granddaughter of ex-Queen Lili Koolani of Hawaii. Think of having to look up an old newspaper file every time you write that name, to see how it is spelled.

We suppose that the governor's mansion will be completed by the time the next Governor of Alabama is inaugurated, who will not have a comfortable home, but about $2,000 for servant hire, and a $7,500 salary. Taken altogether, the next governor ought to be able to save a little money out of the job, but he won't, for the office will be so tempting, till the candidates will be coming from all sections of Alabama. It is not unlikely that Houston will have a man in the next race.

SOUNDS NATURAL

Governor Blease of South Carolina with reference to appointing a supreme court judge, over which a good deal of bitterness has arisen, has this to say: "While I shall of course be respectful to your body, at the same time, a large majority of the people of South Carolina elected me governor, and in that large majority as much brains as was in the minority and I expected to see that my friends received at least some consideration from this administration."

and I do not propose to appoint my enemies to office upon the recommendation of any body, unless it be that I cannot find a friend who is competent and worthy of the position."

That statement sounds like one that might have come from a certain governor Alabama had at one time.

TWO BICYCLE ACCIDENTS.

Several weeks ago a white boy, said to be a delivery boy, rode his bicycle into a small child, knocked it down, and seriously injured it. The child was playing on the sidewalk in front of its parents home. She was injured internally, and was confined to her bed for some time. Later, fever set in, followed by pneumonia. She is still critically ill.

Some ask the boy how it happened that he ran into the child. He said that she wouldn't get out of his way.

One day recently a negro boy was riding a wheel on the streets, and ran into a white boy, breaking a leg. The accident happened in the streets, where bicycles are allowed. It was purely an accident, according to those who witnessed it. The boy was fined $100.

It is possible that the first case was never reported to the police or brought to the attention of the town authorities, but it should be, even at this late date, for it is doubtful if the little girl ever recovers from her injuries.

A NEW RULING.

Judge McCall, of Memphis, has handed out a hot decision. Some Italians were engaged in the sale of whiskey, which is against the law like it is in Alabama. He handed them out something like this:

"No man can support the constitution of the United States and the State of Tennessee and uphold the laws of both, as they are required to do under oath in securing naturalization papers, and at the same time engaged in the unlawful vocation of selling liquor in a state where the sale is prohibited by law." Now as an illustration: suppose that every man in Alabama who engaged in the sale of liquor and who was convicted of the offense, was disfranchised. It wouldn't take much of this sort of law to enforce the prohibition laws.

The ruling of Judge McCall with reference to the Italian bootleggers will serve to make the foreigners a little more particular about violating the laws of this country. As a rule the foreigners are not law-breakers.

HOW SOON.

Some are wanting to know how soon an election will be called in Houston county to vote on the whiskey measure, considering the bill gets through the senate. We don't know, for we know just how long it will take to get that forty-five percent of the signers to a petition asking for an election. When you find 1,300 people in Houston county who want to put their names down on a petition asking for an election for the sale of whiskey, you will have practically a majority for whiskey.

You will find men who will vote for whiskey, but who would hate to put their names down on a petition asking for an election.

When we polled a full vote at the last election, it was almost the full voting strength of the county. No election for whiskey or no whiskey would bring out such a vote any more, and it would be safe to say that if forty-five per cent of the voters sign a petition that the election will go in favor of whiskey.

We very much doubt if forty-five per cent of the people who voted in the last election in Houston county will sign such a petition, not without the piping of a good deal of hot air.

GET A SUPPLY OF GARDEN TOOLS.

One of the things necessary to profitable and pleasant garden-making is a supply of good tools. Of course, the garden should be arranged so that all the preparation of the soil and most of the cultivation can be done by horse power, but there will always be considerable hand work required. A wheel hoe in a garden will soon pay for itself. In fact, if one expects to do the right sort of gardening he can not afford to do with out one. Then he will need at least one wide and one narrow hand hoe, a good garden rake, a dibble, a seed drill, and a spraying outfit. Other tools will be needed, of course, but these are for the beginning. If bush fruits or grapes are included in the garden, a pair of pruning shears should be added. Starkville (Miss.) Progressive Farmer.

DON'T "GO BACK TO THE FAIR;" STAY THERE

"Back to the farm" is futile, because only failures come back, but "Stick to the farm" is good, because all that is or can be springs from the soil." This sentence, attributed by Harper's Weekly to Theodore N. Vail, president of the great telegraph and telephone consolidation, may not be absolutely true in every case, but in its general meaning it is. The men needed on the farm are not the derelicts or the drifters, but those able to guide their own course. It may be a good thing to bring boys and men from the towns out to the farm; but it is a far finer and more valuable thing to train the young men now growing up in the country so that they will love the farm and make it pay, to educate them for leadership in the great work of remaking our rural life. The story of the country boy who went to the city and made a great success has been told a thousand times; let us show the strong, energetic country boy that he can make just as great a success in the country. When we do this these boys, born to be leaders of men, will not feel that they must go to town to seek their fortune, and country life will be finer and better than we have ever dreamed. What is your community doing to make its brightest boys and girls stick to the farm?—Starkville (Miss.) Progressive Farmer.

Cora, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place says, "I was so weak I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women. It is certainly worth a trial. ### DAILY CHAT ON HEALTH

By Gordon Lloyd, M. D.

HALLUCINATIONS

As a result of a certain condition of the brain it is possible to see clearly and in sharp detail persons and things that do not exist, to hear bright music where silence reigns,
and to feel positively the touch of hands that are not.

All such experiences are hallucinations. "A hallucination," says an authority, "is a sensory impression without an external stimulus—a perception without an object." So vivid and positive are many hallucinations that the impression could not be more real upon the mind of the subject if actual objects were acting as stimuli. Doubtless many of the experiences of sincere spiritualists are hallucinations. The hallucination differs from the illusion; the latter is a distorted impression produced by actual internal stimulus as when things look different from what they really are, whereas the true hallucination is an impression without external excitement of any sort.

Hallucinations of sight vary all the way from spots before the eyes to large groups of persons in animated action. The variety of visual hallucinations is limitless. Sometimes the objects are colorless or silhouettes; sometimes they are radiant with high colors; again they are gossamer in their transparency. Sometimes they hide real objects in the field of vision; sometimes they merely veil them.

Hallucinations of hearing are commonest. And they too, vary in kind and degree greatly. The hallucination may be nothing more than a tinkling sound or mumbling voice, but it may consist of highly complex harmonies and melodies or of an extended oration. Sometimes the invisible voice seems to be near at hand; at other times it may be distante; quite commonly it seems to reside in some part of the subject's body. Doubtless some of the "divine" commands "heard" by recent prophets have been hallucinary in essence.

All five of the senses are susceptible of hallucination. All manner of imaginary odors may assail the ol-factory sense, from the malodor of stale tobacco to the perfume of the rose. So closely wedded are the senses of smell and taste that hallucination of one usually involves the hallucination of the other. Taste is seldom separately affected, but when it is, the hallucination of bitterness is the commonest experience.
Physicians have to be careful in diagnosis to guard against hallucination
of general sensation of pain. Patients may feel nagging, dragging or burning sensations in any organ of the body however healthful the organ may be. Opiates are often powerless to relieve the pain of hallucination.

What is the cause of these phenomena? We are told that it is simply a reversal of the normal current of sensory nerve action. Normally a perfume excites the nerve of smell, passes as an impression to a center in the base of the brain, and from there is switched to a center in the gray matter, to remain as a memory-picture. Let the mental machine get partly reversed, and the "memory-picture" may start an impulse which goes back to the center in the base of the brain thence to be felt, or realized, again. Thus all hallucinations are derived from past experiences.

Alcohol, certain fevers, and various nervous disorders may bring about a reversal of the stream of feeling.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarh. Halls' Catarh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Halls' Catarh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the cause of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and antiseptic nature in doing its work. The proprietors have much faith in its curative power that they offer $100.000 for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

AN INDUCEMENT.

A church house in a certain rural district was badly in need of repairs. The officer board had called a meeting of the parishioners to see what could be done toward raising the necessary funds. A middle-aged man, known to be one of the wealthiest and at the same time one of the stingiest of the adherents of that church, arose and said that he would give five dollars, and sat down.

Just then a bit of plastering fell from the ceiling and hit him squarely upon the head. Whereupon he jumped up, looked confused, and said: "I—er—I meant I'll give fifty dollars!" then again resumed his seat.

After a brief silence a voice in the back of the room was heard to say: "O Lord, hit 'im again!"—
